OUR VISION

The aim of the GHEC 2012 is to focus on the core human right that parents have—the prior right to choose the form of education appropriate for their children, including home education, the fastest growing form of learning today. Home educators are a diverse group, but we share a passion and care for our children's learning in common and deserve the respect of our governments. All are welcome at the GHEC 2012 regardless of motivation or methodology.

Network • Exchange Experiences and Ideas • Make a Global Impact Everyone with an interest in home education is invited!
